

APPLICATION FOR THE HONORS PROGRAM
KNOX COLLEGE, GALESBURG, ILLINOIS

Instructions to Student. (1) Review the program description and guidelines for the Honors Program. (2) In consultation with your project chair – the faculty member who will be most involved with your project, prepare a project proposal that conforms to the guidelines. (3) Identify other members of your project committee, including one member from outside the department. (4) Complete this application form and submit it along with your project proposal to the Vovis Center for Research and Advanced Study, Old Main room 102, Knox College Box K-203.

Approval. The Academic Standing Committee will meet to review and make decisions on the approval of students' applications. The Academic Standing Committee reserves the right to not approve a proposal, deny permission to go forward, or to set a probationary term for students' projects. If a student is approved on probationary basis, the student will enroll as an independent study. If the work is sufficiently strong after the first term, approval for Honors can be given and the independent study credit can be converted to an honors credit. Once the Honors Committee has met and reviewed applications, you will be notified if you have been approved for honors.

Application Deadline. The deadline for submitting Honors proposals for the 2012-2013 academic year is SEPTEMBER 18th. Applications should be submitted to the Vovis Center for Research and Advanced Study by the end of the term immediately prior to the first term of your proposed honors study; applications must be submitted no later than the end of the first week of the first term of your honors study. (You may enroll—or pre-enroll—for honors before submitting your application.)
